Manuscript Number:	Ms_BJPR_25433
Title of the Manuscript:	Anti-hemorrhoid Evaluation of Selected Medicinal plants used in North-East Nigeria for the Treatment of Hemorrhoids (Pile)
Type of Article

PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
A number of the questions raised in previous review have not been answered or explained. The authors are requested to refer back to the original comments to either provide responses or make changes in the manuscript. It would be appreciated if they can clearly list detailed replies and/or actions done, point by point, in the Response section of the form. Additional comments: In the Plant Collection and Identification section (last sentence), it is said that "concoction, decoction and maceration" preparations were tried. What are the concoction and decoction preparations they refer to? What is the difference between concoction and decoction? The English language requires improvement throughout the manuscript. In summary, a substantial revision is needed for this manuscript.
