

Editor's Comment:

- This is an interesting study about alternative and complementary approaches to the management of anxiety in acute coronary syndrome. The study is well designed, experimental design, and analysis of data is convincing is appropriated and authors responded correctly to all referees' queries.

Still needs some editorial polish. For example in discussion section (last paragraphs) authors wrote Spiel Berger's as the author of STAI. The correct spelling is Spielberg.

Otherwise, the manuscript is ready for publication.
