

Editor's Comment:

This manuscript entitled "Assessment of Nutrition Knowledge Among University Students in Ankara" cannot be published as written. The authors need to separate the "result" from the "Discussion" section and correct some of the hackneyed expressions in the paper. The authors need to look for related published manuscripts, study them and use such findings to discuss the results of their study instead of just clustering the section on results with discussion which has created problems of lack of clarity, and confusion for the reader.
