

Editor's Comment:

I would like to inform you that I checked the relevant documents and I found the article is suitable for the publication into our Journal. My final decision is to accept the article for publication and sending it to the publication process. My decision is based on the referees' reports that required revisions and the points that gave accept for the manuscript.

Thank you very much for providing me with the chance to give a decision on the manuscript. I hope you are well and I'll be happy to hear from you soon.
